ABSTRACT

AVENTRI

Aventri is an all-in-one event management solution that makes events modern and trendy, attracts and engages attendees effectively, and helps event organizers save time.

ABOUT

ABOUT

Aventri is an ionic mobile application that aims to improve efficiencies and eliminates unnecessary paperwork, it also maximizes participation and improves marketing capabilities while allowing participants to sign up when and where it is most convenient for them.

PROBLEM

EXISTING PROBLEM

Registration, queuing, and manual check-in are just a few of the many jobs that event organizers had to do using manual methods. Organizers don't have to worry about sorting the information submitted by participants; the database will be updated automatically, and that is a massive advantage in terms of saving time. The main benefit of a good online registration system is it creates one simple collection point for all information you require from delegates, presenters and exhibitors.

OBJECTIVES

- To create an application that will improve efficiency and eliminate unnecessary paperworks.
- To develop an application that speeds up the event booking process and provides customized packages and services online.
- To design and develop an application that automatically generates and provides reports about event-related records.

About Me

I'm a hard worker; I believe nothing is ever handed to you so you have to go get it. I care more for some others than I do myself but I have a huge nonchalant attitude.
